2017 Dodge Viper ACR

Who is the person who has most inspired you?

I owe a big part of my car obsession to Michael Schumacher. His fearless approach towards Formula 1 was second to none. It's the world's most demanding race both physically and mentally and any sign of weakness can cause catastrophic results on the track.

How did you come to acquire your winning vehicle?

I bought it at a back in February of 2018. It was a dream come true.

The cosmetic modifications started when I first designed the stripes in a video game and fell in love with it so I decided to bring it to life. All the cosmetic modifications that you see on the vehicle were custom-made and I'm glad to have inspired many others to follow my design around the world.

How did your automotive passion begin?

My passion for cars began when I was 6, sitting on the couch with my dad watching Michael Schumacher win his Formula 1 races. The way he just pushed the car to its limits was out of this world.

I've always been a Dodge fan, but I really got into Dodge when Jay Leno first showed off the 2015 Challenger SRT Hellcat, I got obsessed.

Do you have any stories to share about your experiences with Dodge?

My most memorable experience with Dodge is being invited to their 50th Anniversary Celebration at the L.A. Auto Show. It's a privilege and I was honored to be a part of Dodge history, an experience that I definitely will never forget.

To whom would you like to dedicate this win?

I would love to dedicate this win to my family. I bought the car when I was battling cancer and they were with me every step of the way, through my highs and lows. I know for a fact that I wouldn't have been able to defeat cancer without them and God. I cherish them more than anything in the world, family over everything
